

SCOTTISH LOCAL HISTORY FORUM

The Scottish Local History Forum (SLHF) is the umbrella group for all individuals and organisations interested in local history and heritage in Scotland.

It publishes a journal three times a year, organizes conferences and workshops, campaigns on behalf of local history, compiles occasional reference works, and generally keeps those involved in local history in touch with Scottish activities.

SLHF CONFERENCE

FAIRS, FÊTES & FESTIVALS

Friday 27 October 2017

How did people in Scotland in the past enjoy their leisure time? How did these traditions start? Why have some of these events continued to the present day and others are long forgotten? We will explore the history of a selection of Scottish bazaars, pageants, fairs and festivals to discover their local origins and the legacies that they have left in Scotland's local communities.
