SLHF NEWS

Best wishes for the New Year to all our members.

DATES FOR YOUR DIARY IN 2019.

Spring and Summer events have a canal theme.

- 12 March 2019 at 14.00.
  ANNUAL SLHF / NLS TALK in the National Library of Scotland, George IV Bridge, Edinburgh.
  Prof Paul Bishop: Forth & Clyde Canal: Reservoirs, Wrangles and Rorts
  The talk is free, but advance booking is required.
  Online booking opens on 15 January at: https://www.nls.uk/events

  The history of the Forth & Clyde Canal is reasonably well known but some of the ‘back stories’ have received less attention. This talk explores some of these lesser known aspects, including the civic rivalry between Edinburgh and Glasgow when the Canal was being planned and negotiated. Glasgow’s involvement in the Canal was driven by the merchants, who might not have been aware of the other aspects of the Canal for their own interests. A less visible aspect of the Canal is its reservoirs, often at some considerable distance from the Canal, but critical to its successful functioning. This talk will open up these more hidden elements of the Canal’s history, enriching our understanding of its history.

  NLS will also have a small display during March of items in their collection relating to canals.

- WALK & TALK programme

  Two Walk & Talk excursions are planned, both involving boat trips, and offering an interesting comparison between the Forth & Clyde Canal and the Union Canal. £28 members; £33 non-members, for each event (includes light lunch and the boat trips). Please note places are very limited. Participants should have suitable footwear, and be able to board the boats. A booking form will be in the Summer issue of Scottish Local History and online booking is at: https://www.slhf.org/events

  - 16 May 2019: Paul Bishop will lead a visit at the Glasgow end of the Forth & Clyde Canal, starting at the Scottish Canals HQ, 1 Applecross Street, then a boat trip to the top lock at Maryhill, with a soup & sandwich lunch and talk at the White House, a former canal-side pub that is being restored by a cycling charity. This will be followed by a walk around the locks and aqueduct, then the return boat trip. There will also be time to view sculptures beside the Canal.

  - 20 June 2019: Graeme Cruickshank has planned an equally varied programme in Edinburgh, with a talk about the Union Canal (in the Central Methodist Hall, Tollcross) followed by a 1-hour walk tracing the former route from the Port Hopetoun site to Edinburgh Quay, then a 3-hour boat trip on the Canal, which includes a light buffet lunch. The boat sails to the Slateford Aqueduct, where it will be possible to disembark briefly, before it returns to Edinburgh Quay.

  - 31 October 2019
  SLHF Conference and AGM will be in Clydebank Town Hall. To commemorate the centenary of the Forestry Commission, the theme will be on many aspects of ‘Wood’. Details of the programme will be available in the Summer.

CONTACT DETAILS

Email http://slhf.org/contact-slhf

‘Clish-clash’ means repeated gossip, so do email your local history news & information (Word attachment or link to your website) to Contribute.

Members only: To receive notification of the newsletter by email or to be removed from the mailing list, choose Sign up for our newsletter on the website contacts page.

Scottish Local History Forum
Box 103, 12 South Bridge
Edinburgh EH1 1DD

© SLHF 2019
ISSN 2055-6411
LIBRARIES, ARCHIVES & MUSEUMS

Historic Environment Scotland has prepared an exhibition The Scots who built the White House, which is on display until 12 April 2019 in the Engine Shed, Fortrose Way, Stirling, FK8 1QZ.

Open 10-4, Mon-Sat.

In 1794, seven Scottish stonemasons left Edinburgh New Town for Washington DC to help build the official residence of the President of the United States. Last October a commemorative plaque was unveiled at 66 Queen Street in Edinburgh. The building was one worked on by stonemasons John and James Williamson, before they travelled to Washington D.C. The Double Scottish Rose motif appears throughout the White House and a replica has been carved by an HES stonemason for display in Washington DC and in the exhibition.

https://engineshed.scot/visit/

High Life Highland and the Highland Museums Forum have developed the Coming Home travelling exhibition which has been touring the Highlands in 2018. The display highlights individual experiences as well the legacy of the First World War in the Highlands. It is on view in Nairn Library in January and Badenoch Library in February 2019.

https://www.highlifehighland.com/cominghome/about/https://www.highlifehighland.com/cominghome/tour/

SOCIETIES

HELP WANTED

Jim Thomson writes that Balfron Heritage Group is planning to commemorate the bicentenary of the Radical Insurrection which took place in 1820, when 200 armed Radicals paraded in Balfron. Handloom weavers were first to suffer from mechanisation introduced during the industrial revolution, and various groups were established in Stewarton, Camelon, St Ninians, and other “Radical” strongholds. Find out more about Balfron history and the insurrection at:
http://www.balfronheritage.org.uk/history

Jim is interested in contacting any other groups which may be organising commemorative events in 2020, so please get in touch: jim@keirhill.globalnet.co.uk

UNIVERSITIES

University of St Andrews Special Collections team has been awarded a grant to catalogue and to make accessible Cupar burgh records 1364-1975. The records are stored in St Andrews University under the superintendence of the Keeper of the Records of Scotland. The £34,289 grant is one of nine allocated across the UK by the Archives Revealed scheme, which is supported by The National Archives, The Pilgrim Trust, the Wolfson Foundation and the Foyle Foundation.

WEBSITES

Glasgow University has launched a database of over 800 advertisements from English and Scottish newspapers 1700-1780 relating to fugitive slaves, which give remarkable detail about individual people. Runaway slaves in Britain: bondage, freedom and race in the eighteenth century is at:
https://www.runaways.gla.ac.uk/
https://www.runaways.gla.ac.uk/database/

The Living Legacies 1914-1918 website based in Queen’s University Belfast, brought together researchers and communities from different parts of the UK who are researching World War 1. One highlighted project is Scapa 100, which is researching and commemorating the scuttling of the German fleet in Scapa Flow in 1919. http://scapa100.org/ and http://www.livinglegacies1914-18.ac.uk/CommunityResources/CommunityProjects/TheScapaFlowScuttlingSupportingaCommunityCentennialReviewofitsPastPresentandFuture/

- Not specifically related to local history but this website might be useful for anyone with mobility difficulties who wishes to visit historical sites.

Euan’s guide: disabled access reviews contains reviews of accessibility of many museums, castles, and stately homes. A recent addition is Fife Accessible Highlights!

https://www.euansguide.com/
https://www.euansguide.com/fife-guide/

PUBLICATIONS

SPECIAL OFFER!

Save 30% on Scottish history books published by Edinburgh University Press

Edinburgh University Press is delighted to offer 30% off all Scottish history books to SLHF members – from Finlay McKichen’s new paperback Lord Seaforth: Highland Landowner, Caribbean Governor to The New Biographical Dictionary of Scottish Women. To browse all Scottish history books, visit the Edinburgh University Press website:

www.edinburghuniversitypress.com

Add the books you’d like to purchase to your basket. Before going to the checkout enter the discount code HISTORYFORUM.

Order direct and save 30%

*Offer valid until 31st August 2019; does not include postage and packaging.

Poor relief and the church in Scotland, 1560-1650, by John McCallum.

Building early modern Edinburgh: a social history of craftwork and incorporation, by Aaron Allen.

The Chinese in Britain: a history of visitors and settlers, by Barclay Price.

The first Chinese person to marry and settle in Britain was William Macao, who arrived in Scotland in 1775 and in 1793 married Helen Ross, a member of a prominent Scottish family. They had two daughters and a son and he lived in Edinburgh for over 50 years until his death in 1831. He is buried in St Cuthbert’s Graveyard alongside his wife. Inspired by Macao’s story the author has researched other Chinese visitors and immigrants, and to tie in with the Chinese New Year he is giving a talk at the National Library of Scotland on Monday 4 February and will be signing books. https://www.nls.uk/events (free, but advance booking required - opens 15 January).

Also there’s a book launch at Blackwells, Edinburgh, where he will give a talk and signing on Thursday 7th February 2019.

In the forefront: Alloa at War 1914–1919, by Andrew Hunt.

Out of the blue: the bombing of Duff House.
On 22 July 1940 four German bombs were dropped on Duff House, then Prisoner of War Camp No 5, killing 6 German prisoners and 2 British guards.
http://www.friendsofduffhouse.org.uk/?p=284
http://www.friendsofduffhouse.org.uk/?p=281

Journal of Scottish Historical Studies, 38(2), Nov. 2018. (ISSN 1748-538X)
- An exponent of Scottish common sense philosophy in revolutionary South America: José Joaquín de Mora, by Iona Macintyre.
- Dissection of the destitute: the supply of anatomical subjects to the medical schools of Aberdeen c.1832–1902, by Dee Hoole.
- ‘Duties in aid of the civil power’: the deployment of the army to Glasgow, 31 January to 17 February 1919, by Gordon J. Barclay.
https://www.euppublishing.com/toc/jshs/38/2

The Scottish Historical Review, 97(2), Oct. 2018. (ISSN 0036-9241)
Articles:
- Plague, covenants and confession: the strange case of Ayr, 1647-8, by Michelle Brock.
- The importance of being a Reservist: the Royal Naval Reserve and the Highlands and Islands, c.1875-1939, by Ben Thomas.

Notes:
- Scots in ‘English Ireland’ in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, by Stephen Hewer.
- John Scot of Scotstarvet (1585-1670) and John Ray (1567-1630), by Jamie Reid-Baxter.
https://www.euppublishing.com/toc/shr/97/2

WHAT’S ON

Find out about what’s happening in local history around Scotland on the SLHF website:
https://www.slhf.org/events
https://www.slhf.org/calendar

Submit your events at:
https://www.slhf.org/submit-event